

I HAVE A DREAM

50th Anniversary of the March on Washington

HE DIDN'T INTEND TO BE A HERO.

BUT HEROES SPEAK OUT WHEN SOMETHING IS WRONG.

Our nation is indebted to those who dared to do the small, brave thing—that later became a big thing. We would be poorer without the courage of their actions and the change they inspired. We would not be the nation we are today ... and the even better nation we hope to be tomorrow.

We are the 250,000 human resource professionals who belong to the Society for Human Resource Management. We are dedicated to promoting workplace policies that ensure equality, fairness and opportunities for all.

We Honor Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., and All of Those Who Have Kept America on the Path to Equality.

shrm.org/dream

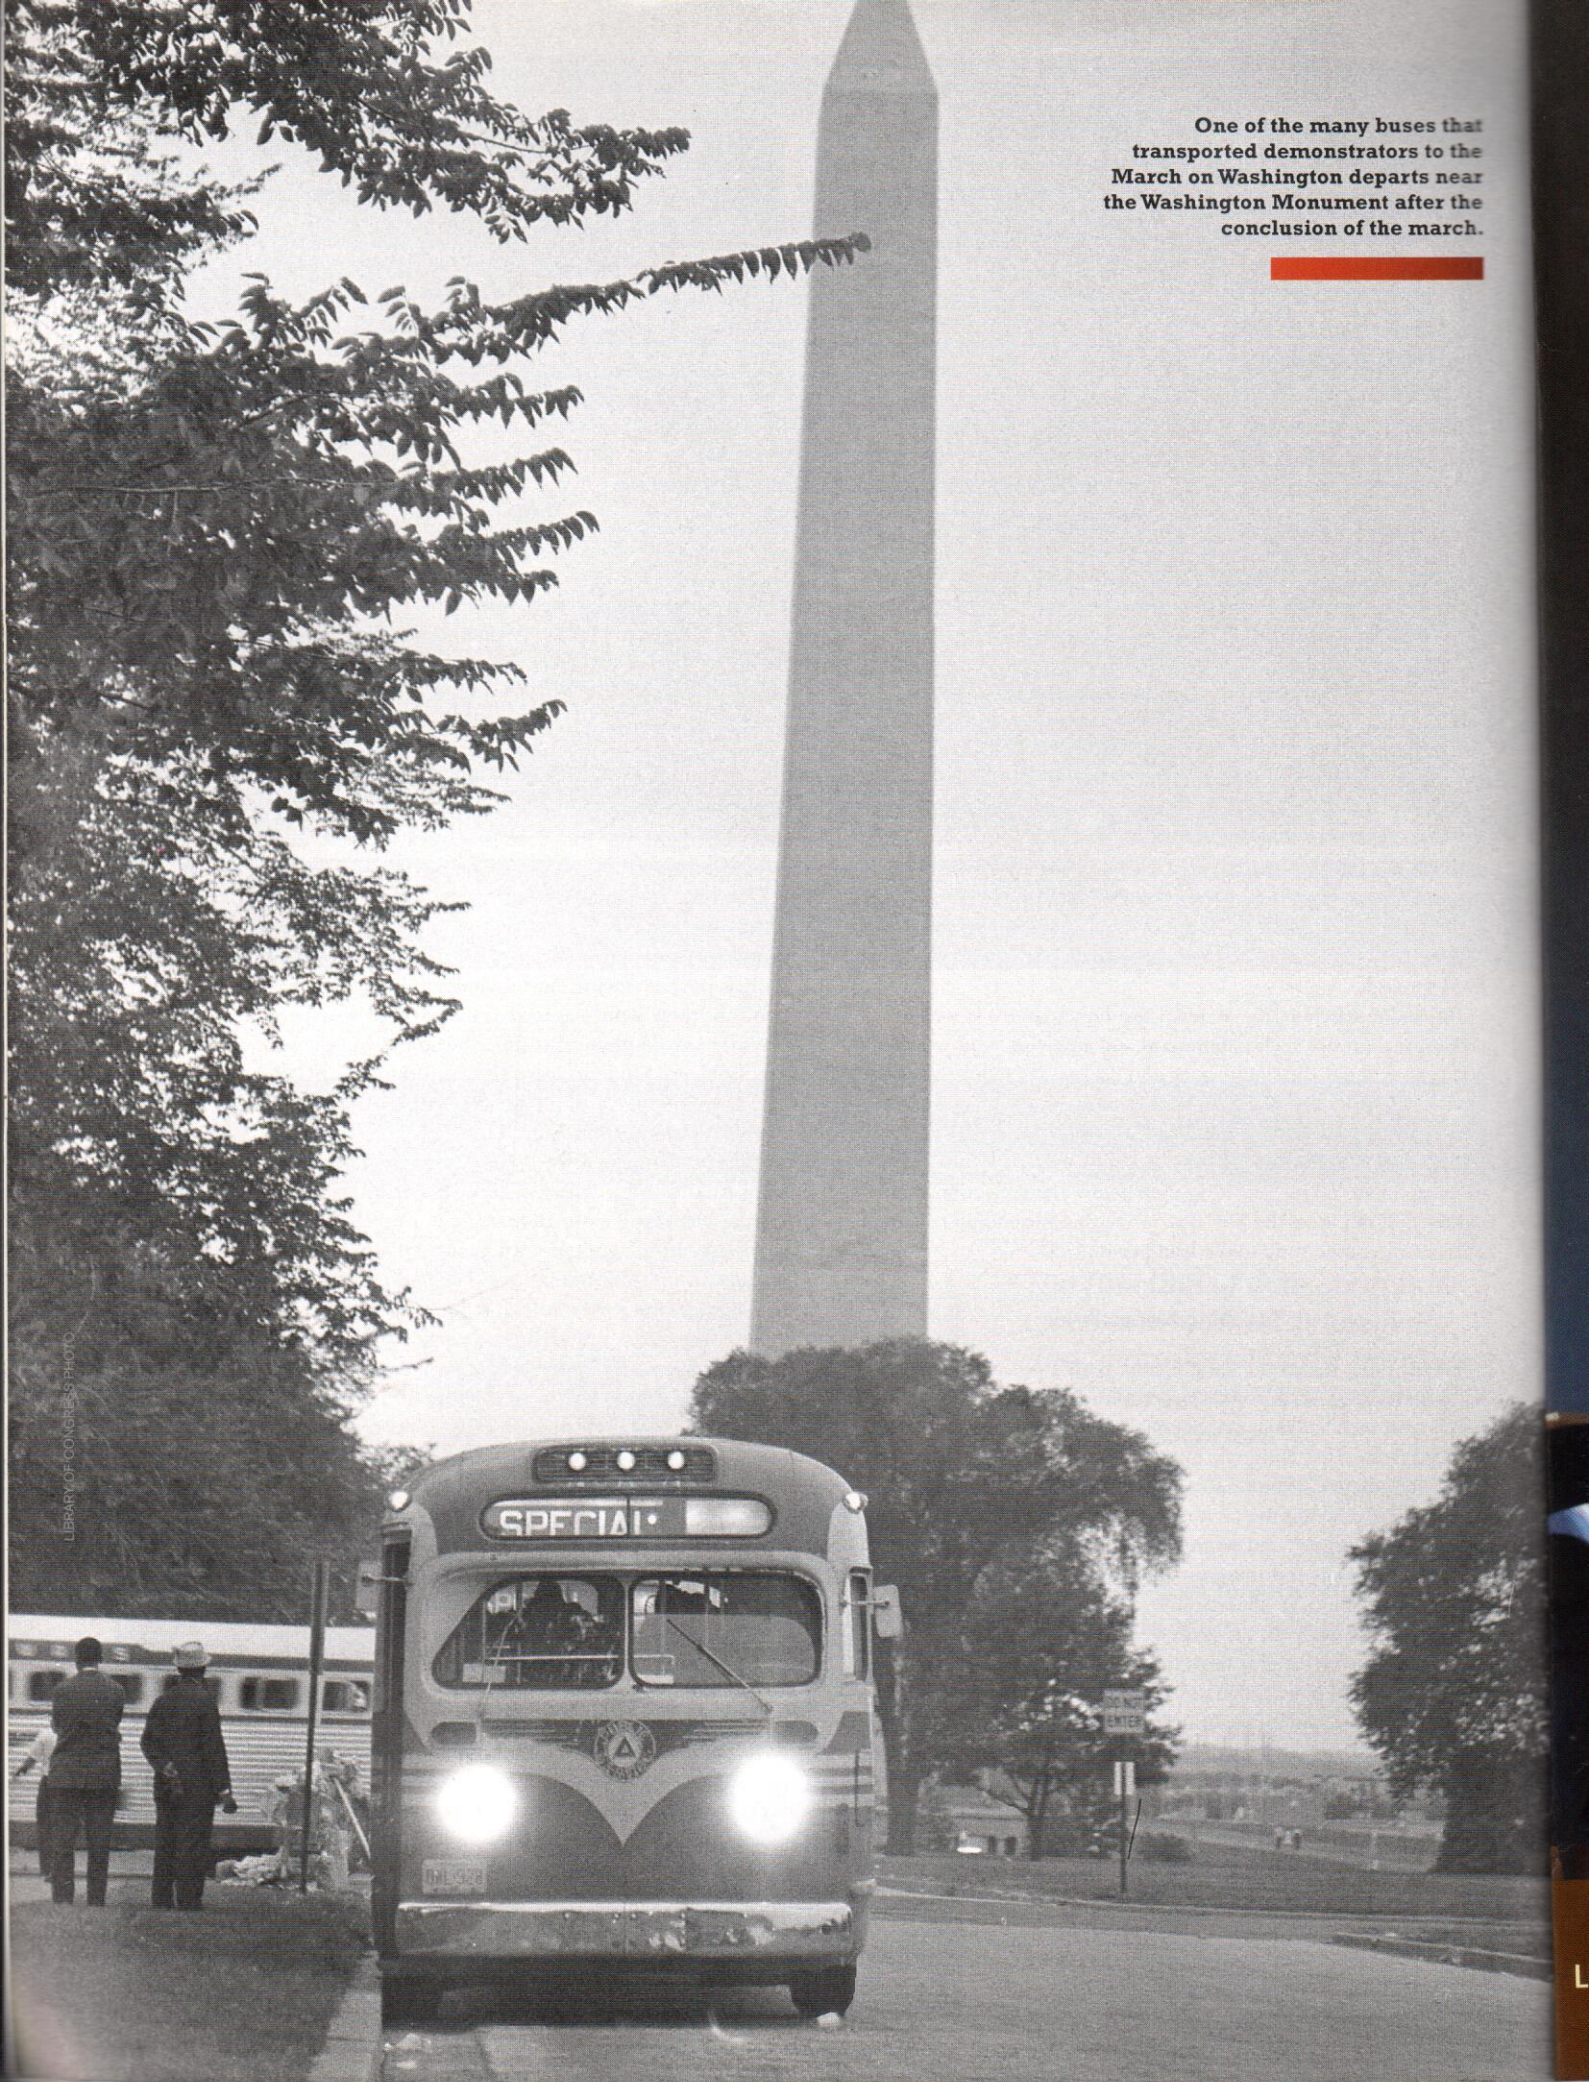

#shrmdream

Leading People.
Leading Organizations.

SHRM SOCIETY FOR HUMAN RESOURCE MANAGEMENT

One of the many buses that transported demonstrators to the March on Washington departs near the Washington Monument after the conclusion of the march.

uses that ors to the arts near after the e march.

Dr. King challenged our nation to uphold its

PROMISE OF FREEDOM AND EQUALITY.

IT IS IMPERATIVE THAT

institutions of higher learning meet this same challenge.

At Lehigh University we are committed to

UPHOLDING DR. KING'S VISION

as we work to provide our students with an education that builds not only knowledge, but

CHARACTER.

LEHIGH.EDU

LEHIGH UNIVERSITY

